

CV:

David Shullman is senior director of the Global China Hub at the Atlantic Council, where he leads the Council's work on China. Prior to joining the Atlantic Council, Dr. Shullman was Senior Advisor at the International Republican Institute. David served for nearly a dozen years as one of the US Government's top experts on East Asia, most recently as Deputy National Intelligence Officer for East Asia on the National Intelligence Council (NIC) in the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI). Prior to joining the NIC, David was a senior analyst at the Central Intelligence Agency. David is an adjunct professor at Georgetown University and served as an advisor on China for the 2020 Biden campaign. He has offered testimony on China before both houses of Congress and publishes regularly in outlets including Foreign Affairs, War on the Rocks and the Washington Post. David's analysis has been featured in the Financial Times, the New York Times, and Politico, among others, and he has provided commentary for broadcast media outlets such as CNN, SkyNews, and NPR. David earned his Ph.D in Political Science from UCLA, a MALD from the Fletcher School, and a BA from Georgetown.